

The Institute of Risk Management South Africa (IRMSA) launched of the third South African Risk Report.

After an extensive period of interaction with IRMSA members, other professional bodies and subject matter experts, through online surveys, events throughout 2016 and other engagements, the Risk Intelligence Committee is assured that the report highlights the most significant risks relevant to South Africa and will assist Risk Managers and business leaders within their organisations with decision making for 2017.

The Institute of Risk Management South Africa (IRMSA) encourage you to share this document with your colleagues and your business networks.
